DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

In response to applicant's argument that the adaptor of Fernandez does not permit interchangeability between barrels and markers, a recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art structure is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. In a claim drawn to a process of making, the intended use must result in a manipulative difference as compared to the prior art. See In re Casey, 370 F.2d 576, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 312 F.2d 937, 939, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963).

The device of Fernandez discloses all the structural limitations as claimed and the functional language of the claims are not given patentable weight.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 3, 6, 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Art Unit: 3644

Claims 3, 6, 12 and 13 recite "wherein said one or more muzzle extensions are of various lengths". The phrase is indefinite for a paintball marker having one muzzle extension. A marker with one muzzle extension can only have one length and not various lengths.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-4, 6 and 9-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Fernandez (66668815).

As to claim 1, Fernandez discloses an adaptor (60) having a body with a hollow cylindrical tube and having two threaded ends; a marker end and a barrel end connection; and the adaptor having an internal diameter equal to the internal diameter of a universal barrel; a tubular insert (90) which extends the entire length of the barrel and adaptor; the insert comprising a hollow tube able to be inserted in the barrel.

As to claims 3, 6 and 13, disclosed is a barrel (30); an adaptor (60); a muzzle (40); and an insert (90). The examiner reads the limitation of "one or more muzzle extensions" as only one muzzle extension with a single length.

As to claims 2, 4, 9, 14 and 15, disclosed is an inner diameter to at least about 0.695 inches (col. 4, lines 58-61).

As to claims 10 and 11, the method steps of the instant claim are readily apparent during the operation of the device of Fernandez.

As to claim 12, disclosed is a barrel (30), an adaptor (60) with a marker end that is capable of having different connection types; a muzzle (40) and a tubular sleeve (90).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 6 and 13 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
